Description

Kobalt 210-Lumen 2 Modes LED Spotlight Flashlight

New

Overview

For anyone looking for a reliable bright light, the new Kobalt LED neck light offers the first revolutionary, wearable design that can be worn comfortably on your neck all day long. Boasting a bright 210 lumens, with the ability to articulate the beam up to 90°, this light is perfect for working in both close quarters and long distance applications up to 30 meters. Aim the beams in different directions to offer a wider range of light or point them down to point on your work area. Unlike a traditional headlamp, you can use this light without accidentally blinding bystanders. This ergonomic, flexible design is universal to fit all necks comfortably without the need to make adjustments to a headband strap. 2 AA batteries are included and can run from 3 hours on high up to 6 hours on low.

- Hands-free/hassle free: innovative wearable design leaves you hands-free to work comfortably without irritation or stress to your forehead
- Multiple modes for infinite use: whether you prefer the highest setting (210 lumens) low (105 lumens) on low
- Articulate the beams up to 90 degrees to create a wider beam
- This water resistant light is made of a durable ABS nylon blend which means you can be sure your light stays on even when you are soaking in the rain
- Ergonomic, flexible design is universal to fit all necks comfortably without the need to make adjustments to a headband strap
