Overview

The water heater stand by Eastman is used to raise your water heater to a code-compliant height of 18-inches above the floor. This height requirement minimizes the risk of explosion from flammable fumes in water heaters with an ignition source. The water heater stand safely elevates the tank from the ground. The stand is built with high-quality galvanized steel providing strength to sustain the weight of water heaters during all their lifespan. The galvanized steel provides a safe, strong, and easy installation by anyone. It includes safety clips to fasten the stand to the wall or floor so that nothing can shake your water heater off its place!
